Introduction / Background
Leck Construction Limited founded in 1946 under the name John Leck & Son, is now one of the largest Construction / Development Companies in Cumbria. Leck Construction has regional offices in Barrow-in-Furness and Kendal and undertakes many aspects of construction and development work throughout the North West.

Leck Construction Limited has a strong client base and is active in constructing residential, commercial, and industrial buildings for both the public and private sector. In addition to this, the company offers a design and build service taking sole responsibility for the entire project from initial concept through to completion. This can be tailored to meet the particular need of any client.

Service to Client & Industry
Leck Construction offers a flexible and diverse attitude both to the client and the industry as a whole. A reflection of Leck’s commitment to the client is to work alongside them either as a partnership or a measured term contract.

Some of our major projects have been for housing associations, local county councils, education authorities and pharmaceutical companies. All of which have ensured Leck’s aim to build on the success of each project but, to also be aware of the current and future demands of the industry and the client.

Quality Management
Leck Construction Limited strives towards exceeding and achieving a consistent level of high quality construction and workmanship and to do so we are working towards ISO 9001:1994 (A1) accreditation. Our policy is to produce and deliver on time and to budget a quality product that meets the needs and expectations of the client.
